The winter session of this School will commence, as usual, on the 1st of November, and will be prolonged to five in-stead of four months, as heretofore. This extension of the session will enable the Professors to give a more extensive and thorough course of instruction, which will be carried on principally by daily examination in designated portions of the text books, with such explanations and illustrations as may be deemed necessary, and also by Moot Courts, for pleading and the discussion of legal questions, and by resuiring from the students written exercises in drawing up bonds, deeds and other legal instruments, arguments and opinions. The attention of the students will also be specially directed to the history of Jurisprudence, and to Civil History as connected with the progress of the Law, and to the Federal Courts. The books will be principally such as have been heretofore used, to be furnished by the students. The extension of the session and of the course of instruction will produce some increase in the cost of the Professor's tickets, the particulars of which will be hereafter announced. It is expected that there will be a second session of five months in each year, and in fact that arrangements will be months in each year, and in fact that armigeness during made for a continuance of regular study and exercises during the whole year, by such students as may desire it.
